ABSTRACT

This booklet provides information on the third year of funding (fiscal year 1987) of the Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA), Title IV grant programs, which provides appropriations for Indian tribes and Hawaiian natives under two program cycles: Basic Grants and Special Projects. An explanation of the Basic Grants program is presented, with an appended table showing a breakdown of funding by activity for each tribe's basic grant. Details are given of each Special Projects award, including a map and funding summary. These summaries indicate how each grantee uses funds and highlight projects that provide members of the communities with the advantages and services of a public library. Hawaiian Natives Projects, which are funded under the Basic Grant program, are also listed, and information provided for each of the 16 projects includes its funding, its objective, and a brief summary of the activities to be accomplished. Foreword

The Library Services for Indian Tribes and Hawaiian Natives Program, Title IV of the Library Services and Construction Act has made awards on an annual basis since Fiscal Year 1985. The Secretary of Education is authorized to make Basic and Special Projects Grants to federally recognized Indian tribes and to organizations primarily serving Hawaiian Natives.

Each year, grants have supported a number of activities, including training of tribal library personnel, purchase of culturally relevant library materials, and the construction and renovation of library facilities. A positive difference in the provision of public library services has resulted from the involvement of tribal members and cooperative efforts by local and State libraries.

This booklet provides a breakdown of funding by activity for each tribe's Basic Grant, summarizes the Native Hawaiian Library Projects, and gives details regarding each Special Projects award. These summaries show how each grantee uses grant funds to provide members of their communities with the advantages and services of a public library. In the Department of Education, technical assistance was provided by Frank A. Stevens, Program Manager; Beth Fine, Program Officer; and Dianne Villines, Program Assistant.

Introduction

This booklet provides information on the third year of funding (FY 1987) of the Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) Title IV grant programs. Grants are used to increase tribal awareness of and access to public library services.

Each year, two program cycles are completed. The first program is the Basic Grant Program, with separate appropriations for Indian tribes and Hawaiian Natives. Eligible Indian tribes and the single organization representing Hawaiian Natives apply for Basic Grants. The Basic Grant amount is determined by the amount of the appropriation under LSCA Title IV divided by the total number of eligible entities. For Indian tribes this amount was $3,572 each, and for the Hawaiian Native organization the appropriation was $602,500. Basic Grant funds are available for all eligible tribes, but only 40 percent of the eligible Indian tribes and Alaskan villages applied for and received Basic Grants. The funds remaining in LSCA Title IV after the Basic Grants have been awarded are used to make awards (averaging $60,000) under the second program, the Special Projects Program.

The amount of funding for both programs is 2 percent of the annual appropriations for LSCA Titles, I, II, and III. The 2 percent is further divided between Indian tribes (1.5 percent) and Hawaiian Natives (0.5 percent). The total appropriation in FY 1987 was over $2.4 million. This amount was used to award 183 Basic Grants to 191 Indian tribes and Alaskan villages ($662,316), one Basic Grant to Hawaiian Natives ($602,500), and 17 Special Projects ($1,145,184).

The booklet contains:

An explanation of the Basic Grant, with an appendix table showing a breakdown of each tribe's expenditures by activity;

A description of each Special Projects Grant, with a map and funding summary; and Descriptions of the Hawaiian Natives Projects under the Basic Grant.

LSCA Title IV

Basic Grants

Basic Grants are awarded on a noncompetitive basis to federally recognized Indian tribes and to Hawaiian Native organizations recognized by the Governor of Hawaii. During the 12 months of the established project period grantees pursued one or more of the following authorized activities:

Library needs assessment—defining the tribal community's public library needs through surveys or community meetings.

Training of library personnel—providing necessary expertise in delivery of library services through coursework at local colleges, workshops, or on-the-job training.

Salaries of library personnel—hiring full-time or part-time librarians or library aides, often resulting in an increase in hours of library service.

Purchase of library materials—buying books and other printed and published resources to answer tribal library needs.

Dissemination of information about library services—producing community newsletters, public service announcements, and display cases for special exhibits of culturally relevant library materials.

Transportation to enable Indians and Hawaiian Natives to have access to library services—using bookmobiles to make library materials available to scattered populations, as well as vans to transport tribal members to public library facilities.

Conduct of special library programs for Indians and Hawaiian Natives—producing oral history projects using the accounts of experiences of tribal elders, and providing story-telling hours for children.

Construction—including the purchase, renovation, or remodeling of library buildings on the reservation.

Contracts to provide library services to Indians and Hawaiian Natives, or to carry out any of the above activities—contracting with local libraries or tribally chartered libraries to provide library services.

Basic Grant awards were made totaling $662,316. The established Basic Grant amount was $3,572, although more than 40 awards were lower than this amount in order to match the tribal request. Three applicants (King Island Native Community, Alaska, Mesa Grande Band of Mission Indians, California, and the Miami Tribe of Oklahoma) submitted joint applications and applied on behalf of other eligible tribes.

A breakdown of activities of each of the 183 Basic Grants awarded in FY 1987 by State and tribe appears as the appendix to this booklet.

LSCA Title IV

Special Projects Grants

Special Projects Grants are competitive awards that are made with funds remaining after the Basic Grants are awarded. Applicants must have received a Basic Grant in the same fiscal year to be eligible to compete for these grants. All Special Projects grantees are required to share a minimum of 20 percent of the total project costs, and a librarian must administer the project funds. The 1-year projects are part of a 3- to 5-year long-range plan. Of the 17 tribes that were funded in FY 1987, six tribes were able to maintain funding for the second year of their long-range plans. Only one tribe has received funding for three successive years.

Seventeen Special Projects awards were made in fiscal year 1987, totaling $1,145,184. The following abstracts summarize the types of activities that the Indian Tribes plan to accomplish during the established grant period.

LSCA Title IV

Hawaiian Natives Projects

The Basic Grant awarded to the Hawaiian Natives was made to Alu Like, Inc., the only organization recognized by the Governor of Hawaii to be eligible to participate in this program. The Native Hawaiian Library Project Administrator is Mahealani Merryman. Alu Like chose to receive all of the $602,500 appropriated for Hawaiian Natives in FY 1987 under the Basic Grant Program.

Overview

Native Hawaiians have a strong oral tradition, so they have not been traditional users of libraries. Innovative and creative approaches are necessary if the Library Services for Indian Tribes and Hawaiian Natives Program is to have a significant impact on the Native Hawaiian community. These approaches must also involve the family, and respect and preserve important Hawaiian cultural values.

The Native Hawaiian Library Project will support the continuing development of outreach programs by including a library/museum resource van, books-by-mail, parent pre-literacy and literacy workshops, homework centers in targeted areas, and adult literacy programs. Another phase of the outreach programs is the continued development of a creative media campaign to inform the community about the resources and services of the public library.

To answer a pressing need for information about Hawaiian history and culture, programs will be developed to evaluate the public library system. The collections housed at the Bishop Museum Library and the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society Library will be made more accessible through extended hours of service. In addition, Hawaiian resource materials will be created and made available by providing a record of culturally and historically significant sites on the island of Maui, creating a slide bank of native biota, recording previously unrecorded chants from the island of Maui, and developing a computerized genealogical research center.

To complement these programs, the Hawaii State Library and Bishop Museum will offer workshops, and the University of Hawaii School of Library and Information Studies will offer an academic course and workshops to instruct librarians, researchers, and the community about the wide range of resource materials available.

The following list of 16 projects provides each project's funding, its objective, and a brief summary of the activities to be accomplished.

NATIVE HAWAIIAN LIBRARY PROJECTS

1. Project Title: Outreach Van

   Funding: $78,302

   Objective: To motivate the Hawaiian community to use the public library.

   Highlights

   In cooperation with the public library system, the Bishop Museum and the Polynesian Voyaging Society, a library/museum resource van will be used to promote Hawaiian native cultural and historical themes. Multimedia and tactile exhibits will include museum artifacts or replicas to highlight library resource material. The van will travel to communities on Oahu and the islands of Hawaii, Maui, Kauai, Molokai, and Lanai.

2. Project Title: Books-by-Mail

   Funding: $24,186

   Objective: To improve access to library materials in rural and remote areas of the islands.

   Highlights

   This outreach program will be developed with the cooperation of the public library system. Individuals may request library materials returned by mail. In addition, a special summer reading program in cooperation with the Center for Development of Early Education, Kamehameha Schools/Bishop Estate will be developed. A survey of comprehension and vocabulary skills of the summer reading program participants will be completed at no cost to the program. The Outreach Librarian will work with a full-time library assistant to develop attractive resource lists, including books and tapes.

3. Project Title: Parents Workshop

   Funding: $24,300

   Objective: To increase parent/child interaction focused on literacy skills development.

   Highlights

   In cooperation with pre-schools, elementary schools, and the public library system, project librarians will conduct 20 workshops and demonstrations for parents of pre-school and elementary school-age children. Pre-literacy activities will be discussed and demonstrated. Parents will familiarize themselves with available materials and learn how to select appropriate age-level materials. Contact with the children's librarian will be encouraged, along with the need for parental role models as readers.

4. Project Title: Homework Centers

   Funding: $36,118

   Objective: To provide improved access to cultural, historical, and informational resources.

   Highlights

   Three homework centers, designed to serve patrons of school age, will operate on homestead lands in remote areas. These centers will be open between the hours of 2:00 and 7:00 p.m., four days a week. Library assistance will be available during the hours of operation. The program will be developed with the cooperation of the public library system.

5. Project Title: Library Promotions-Public Service Announcements

   Funding: $13,336

   Objective: To inform Hawaiians about the resources and services available in the public library.

   Highlights

   The project contractor will write, develop, and produce appealing public service announcements for radio broadcast. These announcements will tell the viewers that libraries are a source of useful information, music and visual resources, unique information on Hawaiian culture, self-help materials, and entertainment. Throughout the public service announcements, an emphasis will be placed on the importance of education and learning and the public library's role in achieving this goal.

6. Project Title: Literacy Centers

   Funding: $ 6,895

   Objective: To strengthen literacy skills of adult Hawaiians who are functionally illiterate.

Highlights

A part-time Library Coordinator working at Kailua High School is matching skills of tutors with students. Two areas of concentration will be pursued—Home Outreach (contact with families in target populations) and Group Outreach (presentations to native Hawaiian groups). Training workshops will be conducted through a cooperative effort between Alu Like and the Hawaii State Literacy Program.

7. Project Title: Bishop Museum Library-Increased Access

Funding: $55,946

Objective: To increase access to the resources of the Bishop Museum Library.

Highlights

The Bishop Museum Library is a major American collection of 90,000 volumes devoted to Hawaii and the Pacific. The library collections also include the Photograph Collection with 500,000 historical images and the documentary art collection with pre-photography studies of Hawaiian life. This project will support the salaries of additional reference librarians with Hawaiian expertise. Service to the public will remain five days a week, and workshops for librarians and teachers will be offered in order to increase awareness of available resources.

8. Project Title: Hawaiians Materials Indexing Project

Funding: $42,806

Objective: To provide native Hawaiians with employment opportunities in librarianship.

Highlights

Two librarians, one full-time and one half-time, have been hired, and are working in the State library system under the supervision of the Head Librarian. The Hawaiian Newspapers Index and the Paradise Collection Index (1910-1950) are being updated.

9. Project Title: Sites Database-Maui

Funding: $23,121

Objective: To provide a comprehensive on-line data base of significant cultural and historical sites on the island of Maui.

Highlights

This project will provide a single, unified source of Hawaiian site information for educational, sociological, and cultural references. This information is difficult to access because it is presently scattered in many locations across the State. Cultural and archaeological site information will be useful to Hawaiian historians, researchers, educators, planners, and laymen.

10. Project Title: Library Education

Funding: $14,880

Objective: To provide employment training opportunities for Native Hawaiians in library and information services.

Highlights

Two fellowships at the University of Hawaii will be offered to allow the two fellows for 1986-87 to continue work toward completion of the Master's degree in library science during the Fall 1987 semester. In addition, two new fellowships will be offered to Native Hawaiians who meet the graduate school requirements and wish to pursue an advanced degree in librarianship.

11. Project Title: Hawaii Resource Materials-Academic Course

Funding: $2,700

Objective: To increase librarians', teachers', and researchers' awareness and appreciation of Hawaiian resource materials through an academic course.

Highlights

A 3-week summer course for three credits will be developed to examine Hawaiian resources covering publishers, authors, films, maps, recordings, and other non-book materials. This course will be developed with the assistance of the public library specialist with special emphasis and instruction on how to meet the needs of Native Hawaiians.

12. Project Title: Hawaiian Genealogy Resource Center

Funding: $12,432

Objective: To assist Hawaiians in tracing their lineage by providing computerized resources and services, as well as training and support on how to conduct genealogical searches in libraries, archives, repositories, and other public institutions.

Highlights

This project will support the development of a Hawaiian Genealogy Resources Center to provide Native Hawaiians with efficient and accurate information to verify Hawaiian ancestry. There is an increased demand for timely legal verification of 50 percent or more Hawaiian ancestry. Providing this essential information will enable Native Hawaiians to participate in service programs for Hawaiians using ceded-land funds. The project will also support the development of a genealogy instructional package to be used in workshops to train individuals who wish to conduct their own research. Native Hawaiians will be encouraged to use the library for their own benefit.

13. Project Title: Slide Bank of Hawaii's Native Biota: "If Unique is What You Seek"

Funding: $14,915

Objective: To provide better access to specialized library materials.

Highlights

In order to satisfy the public's need for a comprehensive slide collection of Hawaii's native biota, the Moanalua Gardens Foundation, with the assistance and cooperation of individuals and institutions that have limited collections, will obtain copies of approximately 200 slides. Sets of these slides will be copied and will be made available for loan to the general public. A brief description will be available for each slide. The collection is meant to be flexible and to accommodate a wide range of users.

14. Project Title: Maui Native Hawaiian Literature Recordings Project-Maui Island Area Chants

Funding: $17,059

Objective: To preserve and make accessible to Native Hawaiians the oral traditions of the Maui chants.

Highlights

Selected Maui area chants from public and private collections and the State Archives will be transcribed from historic documents and private collections, cataloged by source, and translated from Native Hawaiian to English. The chants will be recorded on 60-minute audio cassette tapes by Pualani Kanakaole Kanahele, who along with other volunteer Native Hawaiian experts in language, history, music, and cultural resources, will establish criteria for selection of chants and employment of an archival researcher.

An accompanying brochure will be developed in Hawaiian and English to be distributed with each set of cassette tapes. Sets of cassette tapes and brochures will be distributed to each library in the public library system, and to ten radio broadcasting stations who will advertise and encourage use of the library.

15. Project Title: Increased Public Service by Hawaiian Mission Children's Society Library

Funding: $22,755

Objective: To increase access to the resources and available reference service of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society Library.

Highlights

The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society Library houses the archives of the Congregational Church in Hawaii. Its collections are in constant demand by individuals who seek verification of their Hawaiian or part-Hawaiian ancestry. The project will employ a full-time archivist/reference librarian to enable the library to maintain present hours of service. Also, two workshops to highlight the available resources will be conducted for the general public.

16. Project Title: Native Hawaiian Library Project Needs Assessment

Funding: $48,000

Objective: To gather data on the attitudes and practices of the Native Hawaiian population regarding existing libraries, library services, and library programs.

Highlights

A personal interview survey will be conducted in collaboration with the Health Surveillance Program. Over a period of two quarters, a total of 3,000 households will be asked to complete a supplemental questionnaire. Of this population, about 600 are expected to be Native Hawaiian, for a total of over 1,800 individuals. The results of the survey will provide guidelines for future development of library programs and services for Native Hawaiians.

The remaining funds, approximately 25 percent of the Basic Grant award, will support staff salaries and administrative costs of the Native Hawaiian Library Project.
